Why Rent?
Upgrade Project: Air is needed continuously while aging machines are removed or replaced
Rebuild: Air is needed continuously while a machine is taken out of service (proactively or reactively) for maintenance
Supplemental Needs: Changes in the process or seasonal needs require increased airflows for a period of time that does not justify a capital expenditure
Capital Avoidance: Air is needed now but there is no budget for a capital expenditure
New Equipment Lead Time: Air is needed faster than new equipment can be purchased and installed

Applications:
- Wastewater treatment
- Petro- chemical
- Power station
- Bulk materials
- Food products
- Cement
- Paper mills
- Proof of Concept
